Text Calculus Early Transcendentals - UGA edition by Edwards and Penney

Grade Breakdown

There will be 4 Mid-Term Exams, each worth 10% of your grade, a Final Exam worth 30%, some Homework worth 20% over the course of the semester and Classwork mostly made up of Quizzes, worth the remaining 10%.

Academic Honesty

All students are responsible for maintaining the highest standards of honesty and integrity in every phase of their academic careers. The penalties for academic dishonesty are severe and ignorance is not an acceptable defense.

Please familiarize yourself with the University Academic Honesty Policy as stated at

<http://www.uga.edu/honesty/>

Homework, Quizzes and Testing

Homework will be administered via WebWork(I'll send everyone an email with the website). With most problems, you can submit an answer an unlimited number of times at no penalty.

Quizzes are meant to engage you during class. As such, they will be mostly unannounced and quick(ideally 5 minutes or less) in either lecture or discussion. I don't give makeup quizzes, but I will drop the lowest few quizzes(approximately 10% of them).

Mid-Term Exams will be 50 minutes. If an emergency comes up and you have to miss a test, I need written documentation that I can file away and verify before I can give any accommodations.

Electronic Devices

If you must bring a cellphone or iPod or laptop or anything of that nature into my classroom, make sure it's stowed away and turned off. I have no patience for texting or surfing during class. Doing so during a test means you get a zero. Calculators(at least non-graphing ones) are allowed, but unnecessary.

Attendance

If you miss 4 or more classes without excuse you will be withdrawn from the class per the university's attendance policy. If you withdraw after the first exam(at the end of chapter 1) you will get a WF unless your average at the time of dropping is a D or better.

Disabilities Policy

If you are disabled in any way, it must be registered with the Disabilities office who will give you forms for me to sign and this must be done before the first exam.
