Please comment briefly on specific aspects of this instructor's teaching which in your opinion particularly deserve praise and criticism such as assignments, grading, testing, methods of instruction, enthusiasm, etc.:
Bergonio is an amazing teacher. He always explains the lessons in good depth and he makes it so simple for anyone to understand it. He breaks down the material very well. Great, Great teacher. I would recommend this teacher to anyone.
Good at teaching students to understand the hard material
Great teacher
He allows made time for my after class if i needed additional help! good guy and good teacher!
He made things very easy to understand. Easily the best math teacher I have ever had, especially considering that this was a calculus class.
He deserves a raise.
He responds well to the class, which makes the class more enjoyable.
I liked the way that he taught, he made it easy to understand. However, he didn't really go over work, such as homework. He also left out a lot of things that I think would have been important to learn, that I learned in AP Calculus in high school.
I think that my instructor is the best math teacher i've had yet, he is well prepared and is fair on all quizzes and tests. I like the fact that there were review sessions, and his notes were also a lot of help.
loved this teacher
Math has never been one of my strengths in school, therefore I was extremely scared about taking Calculus. Phil is one if not the best Math teacher I have ever had.He does an exceptional job of explaining topics and is always open to answer questions. I would highly recommend him
Phil conveyed the material to the class very well.
phil is a wonderful math instructor

Phil was always enthusiastic and approachable. He made sure that we knew what was going on and he didn't teach above our heads (which is a common occurrence in some math classes). I enjoyed the class and Phil was a fantastic teacher!

This was the one class that I have dreaded the most. I'm not very strong in math so I waited until my final semester to take the course. I thought Phil Bergonio was a great instructor. He taught the material in a way that was easy to understand. I would recommend the teacher to another student.

Upon entering Phil's Calc class, I was really scared because math had never been a strong point for me. However, from the beginning, he was always available for office hours, and he explained things really well in class. I have never been so proud as the day I made a 100 on my second Calculus test. I think I got really lucky with finding a good Calculus professor; Phil is one who can teach the material in a way that we can understand it, is willing to spend extra time with you if you need it, and wants students to do well in his class.

My only gripes are (and I'm sure he has heard them before) are memorizing definitions for tests, and having a test the Tuesday after Thanksgiving Break was a real bumner. Other than that, I have been really pleased with my experience with UGA's math department. I had people from all sides telling me to wait and take it at a community college because UGA's Calculus classes were ridiculous, but I'm glad I didn't listen to anyone, because it turned out to be okay.

When I took calculus in high school, I loathed it. But after taking calculus with Phil this past semester, I have excelled and actually enjoy learning it. I never dreamed that I would be able to get an A on a calculus test, let alone two. I give Phil so much credit for finding a teaching style that really breaks down calculus in a way that students can understand instead of just putting it on the board and expecting us to memorize the material. Because of his enthusiasm and laid back teaching style, I was able to get past my expectations for an extremely difficult semester and learn that calculus can be fun and interesting. I cannot thank Phil enough for the confidence he has given me when it comes to calculus.
