Please comment briefly on specific aspects of this instructor's teaching which in your opinion particularly deserve praise and criticism such as assignments, grading, testing, methods of instruction, enthusiasm, etc.:

Adding a study guide before each Test would be a more helpful way to prepare for the Tests.

He got to the point and answered all our questions. I would recommend him to future students.

I had Phil for Pre-Cal and Calculus, he does a great job of preparing you for what you will be tested over. The stuff you don't need to know, he doesn't bother with and he teaches you the basics. I'm not a math oriented person, I don't like math at all and I found Phil's class to be manageable and sometimes even interesting. Good job Phil, I don't think I'll ever forget Mean Value Theorem after that last test.

I thought he was very accessible and easy talk to. If you had a question he would answer it on the spot and that was extremely helpful.

Mr. Bergonio is a great instructor. He is always prepared to teach the class and the class is always on schedule. His teaching methods are very straightforward and it is very easy to follow his teaching.

Overall I think is a far better math teacher than any other. However, he did not return my emails. My schedule conflicted with his office hours, and he was very hard to get ahold of. Phil, should be more willing to aid the special needs of students, and be felxible.

Phil Bergonio is always there to help students. It's nice to have a teacher that is available when you need there help. Bergonio trys to make the material easier to learn. We've always gone over everything on the test... before we take the tests- no surprises unless it's bonus!!!!

Phil Bergonio provides homework that is much more difficult than his tests. Although that is theoretically helpful, I actually find it confusing when studying for tests. Would have found it more easily comprehensible if difficulty levels of both exams and homework were commensurate. Did appreciate his handouts and study tips before exams; both were very helpful!

Phil did an excellent job of presenting the material as well as answering any questions that students may have had. He gave ample graded opportunities and was very understanding of unfortunate situations.

Phil is a great teacher. His teaching ability, combined with previous knowledge of calculus, helped me to do well in this class. He demonstrated a knowledge of the material through his teacher and was confident that every student had the ability to succeed in this course.

Phil was a good teacher. He explained things in a clear manner, and was very approachable during class. His tests were very fair. The class was challenging but fair at the same time. I thoroughly enjoyed it.

Phil was great!

Phreestyle Phil is the man!

Quizzes and homework are very helpful in understanding the material and preparing students for tests.

Studying for the final is overwhelming and unnecessarily hard because no formulas will be given on the exam. I would rather spend time learning the theories and steps to solve a problem, not memorizing formulas.

Overall, Phil is a great teacher who cares about the success of his students. Phil is always there to help and encourage you!

Tests and quizzes were clear and fair in testing the material learned in a clear manner.

the course was very fast paced and it seemed that everyone was at a different level. It was very hard to keep up. It would have been better to go slower and use to entire class time rather than let us out early and rush through the material. phil was a fair grader and his assignments and tests were a good representation of the material covered.
